

UBS clients in their own words.

“When it comes to financial matters I agree with Pestalozzi, who once said that confidence is an inexhaustible capital investment. UBS has certainly suffered a setback in this respect, but I still have complete confidence in my house bank, despite its current situation and the crisis on the international markets. As before, UBS is a dependable partner that is strongly committed to acting on my behalf and meeting my banking requirements.”

Dietmar Gajdos
UBS client since 1993