

UBS clients in their own words.

“During the economic crisis of the 1990s, many small companies felt they were let down by UBS, but this was never the case as far as our business is concerned. UBS has always supported us, even in difficult times. Small companies are important since they create jobs, but it is also important to give money to UBS in order for the bank to protect its own workforce. Showing solidarity with UBS by participating in this campaign is a way of supporting the bank in return.”
