

UBS clients in their own words.

“There are certain things that bother me about UBS, but as before the bank has plenty of employees who are good at their job and very professional. It would be quite unfair to punish UBS employees by closing our accounts. The financial crisis is a global problem, and it is therefore not right to single out UBS as the sole bank to blame.”

Reto Kurz
UBS client since 2007