Performance Review

UBS (Lux) Strategy Xtra SICAV - Balanced (USD) (SGD hedged) P-4%-mdist

Global financial markets rallied in November, with global equities enjoying their best monthly gain ever, supported by reduced US political uncertainty, positive vaccine news and the prospects of a faster economic recovery.

Monthly performance

In November the fund performed positively with 6.7%. It was a strong month, with equity allocations contributing the most.

YTD performance

YTD as of the end of November, the fund has delivered a positive performance of 3.8%. Following the soaring markets in November, performance is again firmly positive.

Performance contributors

High-quality USD bonds did not capture much additional upside in November. Further spread tightening to levels last seen after the financial crisis allowed USD corporate bonds to end the month slightly higher. Within the global high yield market, energy, oil & gas exploration and airlines were among the strongest winners. Emerging market bonds performed well, with an additional boost to local currency issues as the USD weakened. While the S&P 500 hit a record high, the more cyclical stocks and smaller caps also profited from a further market rotation. Emerging market equities posted robust returns under the leadership of Latin America. The hedge fund posted positive returns across the main styles. The risk parity strategies recorded strongly positive returns in a generally pro-risk environment.

Performance detractors

Precious metals were the only commodity sector to post a negative return as investor demand for safe investments waned.

For illustrative purposes only. Current allocation may be changed at any time without prior notice. The allocation is based on the model portfolio of the strategy. Due to implementation exceptions, actual exposures may deviate. Foreign currency risks are largely hedged against the reference currency.

Current investment strategy

We are overweight in emerging market bonds and corporate bonds at the expense of high-grade bonds. Our equity view is constructive, with parts of the exposures being held in options. Underweights in the USD, AUD and TWD finance a basket of Asian EM currencies. Tactically, we currently also hold gold.

Risks

The fund invests in equities, bonds of varying credit quality, money market securities on a global basis, as well as in alternative forms of investment such as hedge funds. It may therefore be subject to fluctuations in value. The fund may use derivatives which can reduce investment risk or give rise to additional risks (inter alia the counterparty risk). The fund can invest in less liquid assets that may be difficult to sell in the case of distressed markets. It therefore cannot be ruled out that the daily issue and redemption of fund units may be suspended temporarily. The value of a unit may fall below the purchase price. This requires an elevated risk tolerance and capacity. Every fund reveals specific risks, a description of these risks can be found in the prospectus.

The monthly 4%-mdist distributing share classes may distribute capital as well as income. It is possible that the distributions result in an erosion of assets and a reduction of invested capital. There are potential negative tax consequences for some investors in some jurisdictions. Investors in some jurisdictions may incur a higher rate of tax on distributed capital than on any capital gains which are realised on disposal of fund shares. Some investors may therefore choose to invest in the accumulating (-acc) instead of the distributing (-dist) share classes. Investors may be taxed at a later point in time on income and capital arising on accumulating (-acc) share classes compared to distributing (-dist) share classes. Investors should seek their own tax advice.
