UBS (Lux) Bond Fund - Euro High Yield (EUR), class (USD hedged) I-X-acc (ISIN: LU1984263852), USD

a sub-fund of UBS (Lux) Bond Fund

This sub-fund is managed by UBS Fund Management (Luxembourg) S.A (the Fund Management Company).

Objectives and investment policy

The actively managed fund invests mainly in high yield corporate bonds denominated in euro from issuers that must meet strict selection criteria.

The fund uses the benchmark, ICE BofA EUR High Yield 3% Constrained Index hedged USD, as a reference in portfolio construction, for performance comparison and for risk management.

In principle, investors may ask the Management Company to redeem their units on any business day in Luxembourg.

Income of this share class is reinvested.

Although part of the portfolio is invested in the same instruments and with the same weightings as the benchmark, the portfolio manager is not tied to the benchmark in selecting instruments. In particular, the portfolio manager may freely choose to invest in bonds of issuers that are not included in the benchmark and/or set a different sector allocation to the weighting in the benchmark, in order to seize investment opportunities. At times of high market volatility, the subfund's performance may therefore diverge significantly from that of the benchmark.

The exchange rate risk of the share class currency is to a large extent hedged against the currency of the fund.

Risk and reward profile

More about the risk category

- The risk category is based on the estimated future volatility of the fund. The method used for this estimate depends on the fund type and historical data.
- Historical performance is not a reliable indicator for future performance.
- The risk category allocated is not static and may vary over time.
- Allocation to the lowest risk category does not mean that an investment in this fund is free of risk.

Why is the fund in this category?

- The fund is in risk category 3 because the volatility of its returns is low.
- The fund invests in bonds and may therefore be subject to volatility. This requires corresponding risk tolerance and capacity. The value of a unit may fall below the purchase price. Changes in interest rates have an effect on the value of the portfolio.

Further material risks

- Investment in fixed income securities are usually considered as carrying credit risk (i.e. potential loss due to failure of issuer).
- Sub-investment grade bonds are usually subject to a high credit risk (i.e. potential loss due to failure of issuer).
- The fund can invest in less liquid assets that may be difficult to sell in distressed markets.
- The fund may use derivatives, which can reduce or increase investment risk (including the risk of loss due to the bankruptcy of the counterparty).
- Conversion Risk can arise from the use of contingent convertibles. Contingent convertibles are subject to equity conversion or principal writedown, if bank regulatory capital falls below predefined thresholds.
- Every fund reveals specific risks, a detailed and comprehensive list of risk descriptions can be found in the prospectus.
