

Fast and secure data transfer

UBS KeyPort Web, an online portal with multibanking and multi-client capability for efficiently and securely processing corporate payment transactions

What should I know about UBS KeyPort Web and how is it used?

UBS KeyPort Web is a multibank-capable payment transaction portal based on the Electronic Banking Internet Communication Standard (EBICS).

Target group

UBS KeyPort Web is for medium and large companies that want to combine all their UBS accounts and – with the help of the UBS Multibanking Service – their accounts with other banks, in one place.

Order registration and file transfers

UBS KeyPort Web enables you to manage your accounts electronically with different banks.

Confirming payment orders and standing orders is easy with UBS KeyPort Web, e.g. for an urgent individual payment (including multibanking payments, i.e. from an account with a third-party bank) or for confirming standing orders using templates.

You can transfer files easily using the “drag & drop” function. Simply drag the file you want to transfer onto the UBS KeyPort Web interface.

UBS KeyPort Web allows you to automate re-occurring file transfers (reporting).

EBICS and distributed electronic signatures (VEU)

State-of-the-art encryption technology using signatures (EBICS) guarantees the highest security for all processes. Multi-client capability and extensive rights management make it possible to allocate work and approve complex processes in different locations. In combination with UBS KeyPort Mobile, you can implement diverse electronic signature models across different locations and channels.

The most important benefits of UBS KeyPort Web

- Distributed electronic signatures (VEU) using individual signature classes for order approvals offer the best security.
- You can also order approvals through different channels and from different locations with UBS KeyPort Mobile from your mobile device.
- UBS KeyPort Web – a single solution that combines different bank- and/or country-specific formats on one platform.
- Individual payment orders can be entered in the relevant templates just like standing orders. For simple use cases, no other payment software is needed any longer.
- Multilingual – users can adjust the language themselves (DE, EN, FR, IT and ES).
