

Reminders? They're history

Pay your invoices automatically with direct debit LSV⁺ and avoid reminder letters

What is direct debit LSV⁺?

Regular payments

If you have to make regular payments in Swiss francs or euros to the same payee, by setting up a direct debit (LSV⁺) you can ensure punctual and reliable payment.

No more reminders

When you grant the payee (invoicing party) a debit authorization, they can debit the payment amounts directly from your bank account. Even when you grant a debit authorization, you automatically have the right to contest any debit you are not in agreement with.

The payee then requests their bank to debit the payments to your account at the agreed intervals.

What direct debit LSV⁺ offers you

Simple and time-saving

- You only need to sign once per direct debit LSV⁺ authorization; after that, things take care of themselves.
- You save time and money by not having to enter information separately for each payment.
- No more reminders and no more forgetting to make payments.
- You always have the right to contest a direct debit.

What requirements must be met?

- A UBS account
- A signed direct debit LSV⁺ authorization for the payee concerned
