Working with the UBS Wealth Advice Center

The UBS Wealth Advice Center is a branch of UBS Financial Services Inc. that provides personalized wealth management advice, and financial products and services to UBS clients who, in most cases, hold less than $1,000,000 of investable assets at UBS. This disclosure is intended to provide you with information about how we work with you, the products and services we offer, and compensation provided to our Financial Advisors.

How we work with you
• As a UBS Wealth Advice Center client, you work with a centralized team of Financial Advisors and Client Service Associates who are accessible by phone and e-mail. All of our Financial Advisors hold the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) Series 7 and 66 licenses, which allow them to provide you with investment advice and discuss the investment solutions we offer.

• As opposed to working with one Financial Advisor exclusively, you communicate with any number of the Financial Advisors on our team. To help ensure that you have a well-coordinated experience, notes about your account and conversations with us are available to all members of our team.

• Because our conversations with you are conducted via telephone, we use robust and multi-factor authentication methods to verify your identity before we provide personal information and/or perform actions relating to your account(s).

Our investment solutions
• Not all of the brokerage and investment advisory products and services offered by UBS are available to you as a UBS Wealth Advice Center client, and the advice provided by our team of Financial Advisors is limited to advice about products and services that are specifically included in the UBS Wealth Advice Center offering. Products we do not offer include, but are not limited to, commodities, foreign currencies, managed futures, certain options strategies, penny stocks, precious metals, private investments and most alternative investments.

• While the Wealth Advice Center offers both brokerage and advisory accounts, new clients to the UBS Wealth Advice Center are limited to two different advisory programs: the Managed Portfolio Program and the Advice Portfolio Program. However, clients already enrolled in the PACE Multi Advisor Program or the PACE Select Advisor Program are permitted to enroll a subsequent account in that program if appropriate. For details regarding the referenced Investment Advisory Programs, including fees, client suitability and program features, see the Firm’s Wrap Fee ADV Disclosure Brochure at ubs.com/formadv.

• If accounts are enrolled in any other UBS investment advisory program when they are transferred to the UBS Wealth Advice Center, we will end your participation in that program and the account will be converted to, and designated as, a brokerage account.

Investment recommendations in Wealth Advice Center accounts
• Recommendations are based on individual client circumstances and can leverage various sources of UBS’s intellectual capital.

• Financial Advisor recommendations in brokerage accounts will typically be to pooled investment vehicles (e.g., mutual funds, exchange traded funds) in order to seek diversification with minimal investments. Individual stocks are not typically recommended by our Financial Advisors.

Compensation to Financial Advisors in the UBS Wealth Advice Center
UBS Wealth Advice Center Financial Advisors receive an annual fixed salary, are eligible to receive an annual discretionary incentive compensation award and have the ability to earn quarterly incentive awards. This UBS Wealth Advice Center incentive compensation plan is operated in UBS’s sole and absolute discretion and may be amended or discontinued at any time.

• Annual Discretionary Incentive Compensation Award: Eligibility and potential payout for the annual discretionary compensation award is calculated by taking into account a Financial Advisor’s performance under the UBS Wealth Advice Center compensation plan and UBS’s overall performance.
- Quarterly Incentive Award: UBS Wealth Advice Center Financial Advisors who meet specific criteria are eligible to earn quarterly incentive awards. Potential payout for qualifying Financial Advisors is determined in part by using a formulaic evaluation of multiple criteria, which includes production credits.

Production credits for brokerage accounts vary by product type and are based on the purchase of a limited set of specified products, including mutual funds, fixed income and exchange traded funds. (Note: For fixed income, credits are also applied for the sale of positions.) For investment advisory accounts, production credits are determined by using a formulaic calculation that includes transactions within an account, the funding of new accounts and/or assets transferred into UBS.

Financial Advisors in the Wealth Advice Center receive more production credits for investment advisory accounts than for other products or transactions. This creates a conflict of interest and an incentive for Financial Advisors to recommend advisory accounts over other products, services and transactions.
