

Paul Donovan

Chief Economist, UBS Global Wealth Management

Paul joined UBS back in 1992 as an intern economist working in our investment bank. Decades later, he's still working as an economist at UBS. As Chief Economist, Paul sits on the Global Investment Committee, a UBS Opinion Leader, a member of UBS Pride, and a member of the UBS Art Board. He's also part of the UBS Nobel Perspectives program, and a supporter of the UBS Women in Economics program.

Paul has a MA in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics from Oxford University and an MSc in Financial Economics from the University of London. He's also an Honorary Fellow of St Anne's College, Oxford and sit on their investment committee and development board. In his spare time, he's an amateur heavyweight boxer (prepared to defend his forecasts in the ring), a keen if very definitely amateur skier and a small scale farmer with apples, pears, and sheep.
