

The Bank for Banks.

Multi-sourced Export Finance.

UBS, with the support of the SERV* (Swiss Export Risk Insurance), has been providing Swiss exporters with export finance solutions for more than forty years.

The remarkable success of our customers in international markets together with their relentless quest for efficiency have profoundly reshaped the network of their production facilities. Outsourcing, globalisation and focus on high value-added activities emphasise the trend to no longer strictly produce in Switzerland, but on a world-wide basis. The result of these profound structural changes is that UBS customers need a partner, capable of providing complete export finance solutions.

UBS as a truly global bank offers expanded multi-sourced export finance services not only to its traditional Swiss customers, but also to partner banks located in every part of the world.

When you choose UBS, "The Bank for Banks", you know that you have selected a partner that will provide you with the multi-sourced export finance services you and your customers deserve.

UBS Export Finance, with its dedicated team of professionals, has the expertise to advise you on your transactions involving all European Export Credit Agencies (ECAs) participating to the "Arrangement on Officially Supported Export Credits".

We aim to provide our multi-sourced export finance services mainly in co-operation with you, our partner banks, preferably once we have established a Frame Credit Agreement (where you act as the Borrower) and/or a Global Agreement (where you act as the Guarantor).

We are looking forward to hearing from you when your next Swiss or multi-sourced export finance transaction develops, and to exploring how we can together structure the best financing solutions for your customers.
