Ad hoc announcement pursuant to Art. 53 LR

The Board of Directors of Credit Suisse Group AG proposes two share capital increases to further strengthen the Group's capital base and support its new strategic direction

Zurich, October 27, 2022 – The Board of Directors of Credit Suisse Group AG will propose to an Extraordinary General Meeting to be held on November 23, 2022, to approve two separate share capital increases: a first capital increase through the issuing of new shares to a number of qualified investors, including Saudi National Bank (SNB), and a second capital increase through a rights offering for existing shareholders. SNB has committed to invest up to CHF 1.5 billion in Credit Suisse to achieve a shareholding of up to 9.9%. Through the proposed share capital increases, Credit Suisse Group AG intends to raise CHF 4.0 billion to further strengthen the Group's capital base and support its strategic transformation.

In a first step, a number of qualified investors have signed purchase and subscription agreements and have irrevocably committed, subject to customary conditions, to purchase new shares with a par value of CHF 0.04 each in the amount of approximately CHF 1.85 billion gross proceeds. The purchase price of each share to be purchased by these investors will correspond to 94% of the volume weighted average price of the shares of Credit Suisse Group AG traded on SIX Swiss Exchange on October 27 and October 28, 2022. Existing shareholders will not receive pre-emptive subscription rights for these new shares. The investors have committed not to sell the new shares until after the settlement date of the subsequent rights offering and to exercise all the rights that will be allocated to the shares they have committed to acquire. The issuance of these new shares is conditional upon approval by the Extraordinary General Meeting of the capital increase to create the shares, and of the following second measure.

In a second step, which is not conditional upon the Extraordinary General Meeting approving the above first measure, the Board of Directors will, at the same Extraordinary General Meeting, propose to conduct a rights offering (issuing of new shares to existing shareholders of Credit Suisse Group AG, if permitted under applicable local laws). In the context of the rights offering, Credit Suisse Group AG intends to issue new shares amounting to gross proceeds of approximately CHF 2.15 billion. To the extent that the first step outlined above (share issuance to qualified investors) does not take place (e.g. if it is not approved by the Extraordinary General Meeting), the size of the rights offering will be increased commensurately, up to a total of CHF 4.0 billion. The subscription price of the new shares to be issued in the rights offering will be based on the volume weighted average price of the shares of Credit Suisse Group AG traded on SIX Swiss Exchange on October 27 and October 28, 2022 and will be subject to a discount to the theoretical ex-rights price (TERP) of approximately 32%.

Saudi National Bank has committed to invest up to CHF 1.5 billion in Credit Suisse across both capital increases to achieve a shareholding of up to 9.9%.

The expected terms of the rights offering as well as the purchase price and the number of shares to be issued under exclusion of the pre-emptive subscription rights as described above, are expected to be communicated on or around October 31, 2022.

Subject to the approval by the Extraordinary General Meeting, shareholders of Credit Suisse Group AG will be allotted one pre-emptive subscription right for each share they hold on November 25, 2022 (after close of trading).

Media release

The pre-emptive subscription rights are expected to be traded on SIX Swiss Exchange from November 28 to December 6, 2022. The exercise period for the pre-emptive subscription rights is expected to be from November 28 to December 8, 2022, 12:00 pm (CET). The listing and the first day of trading of the new shares on SIX Swiss Exchange, as well as the delivery of the new shares against payment of the offer price, are expected to take place on December 9, 2022.

A syndicate of banks has committed, subject to customary conditions, to carry out a firm underwriting of the new shares issued under the rights offering. The banking syndicate's underwriting obligation extends to the full potential amount of the rights issue size (i.e. up to CHF 4.0 billion).

The gross proceeds of the two share capital increases are expected to amount to approximately CHF 4.0 billion.

Statement regarding capital, liquidity and leverage

Credit Suisse Group AG is subject to the Basel framework, as implemented in Switzerland, as well as Swiss legislation and regulations for systemically important banks, which include capital, liquidity, leverage and large exposure requirements and rules for emergency plans designed to maintain systemically relevant functions in the event of threatened insolvency. Credit Suisse Group AG has adopted the Bank for International Settlements (BIS) leverage ratio framework, as issued by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (BCBS) and implemented in Switzerland by the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA.

Unless otherwise noted, all CET1 ratio, CET1 leverage ratio, Tier-1 leverage ratio, risk-weighted assets and leverage exposure figures in this document are as of the end of the respective period.

Unless otherwise noted, leverage exposure is based on the BIS leverage ratio framework and consists of period-end balance sheet assets and prescribed regulatory adjustments. The tier 1 leverage ratio and CET1 leverage ratio are calculated as BIS tier 1 capital and CET1 capital, respectively, divided by period-end leverage exposure.

Cautionary statement regarding forward-looking information

This document contains statements that constitute forward-looking statements. In addition, in the future we, and others on our behalf, may make statements that constitute forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements may include, without limitation, statements relating to the following:

- our plans, targets or goals;
- our future economic performance or prospects;
- the potential effect on our future performance of certain contingencies; and
- assumptions underlying any such statements.

Words such as "believes," "anticipates," "expects," "intends" and "plans" and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements but are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements. We do not intend to update these forward-looking statements.

By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties, both general and specific, and risks exist that predictions, forecasts, projections and other outcomes described or implied in forward-looking statements will not be achieved. We caution you that a number of important factors could cause results to differ materially from the plans, targets, goals, expectations, estimates and intentions expressed in such forward-looking statements. These factors include, but are not limited to:
