For our usage of cookies and other tracking technologies in relation to UBS websites please also refer to the UBS Website, Social Media and Cookie Notice available here.

We may use Personal Data for analytics and measurement (incl. machine learning) to process the above information, including profiling based on the processing of your Personal Data, for instance by looking at information we obtain via cookies and tracking technologies.

In some cases, we collect this information from public registers (which, depending on the product or service you receive and the country of the UBS entity with which you have a business relationship, may include beneficial ownership and other registers), public administration or other third-party or public sources, such as wealth screening services, credit reference agencies, fraud prevention agencies, intermediaries that facilitate data portability, and other UBS Group entities. If relevant to the products and services we provide to you, we will also collect information about your additional card holders or account holders, business partners (including other shareholders, or beneficial owners), dependents or family members, representatives, or agents. Where you are an institutional or corporate client or investor, we may also collect information about your directors, representatives, employees, shareholders or beneficial owners. Before providing UBS with this information, you should inform those persons accordingly and provide a copy of this notice to them.

3 For which purposes do we process your Personal Data and what legal basis do we rely on?

3.1 Purposes of processing

We always process your Personal Information for a specific purpose and only process the Personal Information which is relevant to achieve that purpose. In particular, we process Personal Information for the following purposes:

- a) Client Onboarding:
- to verify your identity and assess your application (including the need for guarantees or other securitization tools if you apply for credit). For legal and regulatory compliance checks (for example, to comply with anti-money laundering regulations, and prevent fraud), please see Section e) below.
- b) Client Relationship Management:
- to manage our relationship with you, including communicating with you in relation to the products and services you obtain from us and from our business partners, handling customer service-related queries and complaints, facilitating debt recovery activities, making decisions regarding credit or your identity, tracing your whereabouts, and closing your account (in accordance with applicable law) if it remains dormant and we are unable to contact you after a period of time;
 - to help us to learn more about you as a client, your preferences on the products and services you receive, and other products and services, including those offered by us, UBS Group entities, and our business partners you may be interested in receiving, including profiling based on the processing of your Personal Data, for instance by looking at the types of applications, platforms, products and services that you use from us, information we obtain via tracking technology and how you like to be contacted;
 - to collect and analyse your individualised and personal or anonymous and group-based activity and potential interests in the use of our products and services, of UBS websites, our applications for mobile devices and UBS platforms, multimedia portals and social networks.
- c) Product Implementation and Execution:
- to provide products and services to you and ensuring their proper execution, for instance by ensuring that we can identify you and make payments to and from your accounts in accordance with your instructions and the product terms;
 - to provide IT solutions to you and ensure their proper execution in accordance with your instructions and our contractual arrangements with you, for instance by providing incident management and testing directly connected to the provision of the service, or by supporting your controller obligations regarding Personal Data storage, legal and regulatory compliance, audit activity and investigations;
 - to perform underwriting.
- d) Engaging in prospecting and business development and / or protecting and enhancing the UBS brand:
- to evaluate whether and how UBS may offer products, services and events, including those offered by us, UBS Group entities, and our other business partners, that may be of interest to you;
 - to individualised and personal or anonymous and group-based matching of offers on UBS websites, on our applications for mobile devices, on UBS platforms, on multimedia portals and social networks and other UBS products and services you may use;
 - to contact you for direct marketing purposes about products and services we think will be of interest to you, including those offered by us, UBS Group entities, and our other business partners, and facilitating competitions and promotions.
- e) Compliance and Risk Management and / or Crime Prevention, Detection and Investigation:
- to carry out legal and regulatory compliance checks in particular as part of the onboarding process and periodic compliance checks, including to comply with anti-money laundering regulations and fraud prevention;
 - to meet our on-going regulatory and compliance obligations (e.g., laws of the financial sector, anti-money laundering and tax laws), including in relation to recording and monitoring communications, apply a risk classification to ongoing business relationships, disclosures to tax authorities, financial service regulators and other regulatory, judicial and governmental bodies or in proceedings and investigating or preventing crime;

- to receive and handle complaints, requests or reports from you or third parties made to designated units within UBS or the UBS Group;
- to reply to any actual or potential proceedings, requests or the inquiries of a public or judicial authority.

f) Supporting, Enhancing and Maintaining UBS's technology:

- to take steps to improve our products and services and our use of technology, including testing and upgrading of systems and processes, and conducting market research to understand how to improve of our existing products and services or learn about other products and services we can provide;
- to analyse the results of our marketing activities to measure their effectiveness and relevance of our campaigns.

g) Other purposes:

- for the UBS Group's prudent operational management (including credit, compliance and risk management, technological support services, reporting, insurance, audit, systems and products training and administrative purposes);
- to enable a transfer, merger or disposal to a potential buyer, transferee, merger partner or seller and their advisers in connection with an actual or potential transfer, merger or disposal of part or all of UBS's business or assets, or any associated rights or interests, or to acquire a business or enter into a merger with it;
- to collect data to ensure the security of buildings, the safety of staff and visitors, as well as property and information located, stored on or accessible from the premises, to prevent, and if necessary, investigate unauthorized access to secure premises (e.g., maintaining building access logs and CCTV system images to prevent, detect and investigate a theft of equipment or asset owned by UBS, visitor or staff, or threats to the safety of personnel working at the office);
- to undertake transactional and statistical analysis, and related research; or
- to exercise our duties and/or rights vis-à-vis you or third parties.

3.2 Basis for processing of personal data

Based on the Data Protection Law of your country of domicile and depending on the purpose of processing activity (see Section 3.1.), we rely on certain legal basis for the processing of your Personal Data. For further details, please refer to the annex dedicated to the country you are domiciled in:

- Brazil (Annex I, page 8)
- New Zealand (Annex II, page 10)
- Singapore (Annex III, page 11)
- People's Republic of China (Annex IV, page 13)
- Saudi Arabia (Annex V, page 15)

4 How do we protect your Personal Data?

All UBS staff accessing Personal Data must comply with the internal rules and processes in relation to the processing of Personal Data to protect them and to ensure their confidentiality.

UBS and the UBS Group have also implemented adequate technical and organisational measures to protect your Personal Data against unauthorised, accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, misuse, disclosure or access and against all other unlawful forms of processing.

5 Who has access to Personal Data and with whom are they shared?

5.1 Within UBS and the UBS Group

We usually share Personal Data with other UBS Group companies, for the purposes indicated in Section 3.1, to ensure a consistently high service standard across our group, and to provide services and products to you. Other companies of the UBS Group may process your Personal Data on behalf and upon request of UBS.

5.2 Outside UBS and the UBS Group

5.2.1 Third Parties

We transfer Personal Data to other credit and financial services institutions and comparable institutions and to our professional advisers and consultants to perform the business relationship with you. In particular, when providing products and services to you, we will share Personal Data with persons acting on your behalf or otherwise involved (depending on the type of product or service you receive from us), including, where relevant the following types of companies:

- a party acquiring interest in, or assuming risk in or in connection with, the transaction (such as an insurer);
- credit card associations, and other card payment and platform providers;
- issuers of securities (including third parties appointed by them) in which you have an interest, where such securities are held by third party banks for you;
- payment recipients, beneficiaries, account nominees, intermediaries, correspondent and agent banks (including custodian banks);
- clearing houses, and clearing or settlement systems and specialised payment companies or institutions such as SWIFT;
- market counterparties, upstream withholding agents, swap or trade repositories, stock exchanges;
- other financial institutions, credit reference agencies or credit bureaus (for the purposes of obtaining or providing credit references); any third-party fund manager who provides asset management services to you;
- any introducing broker to whom we provide introductions or referrals, and
- lawyers, auditors, accountants, and insurers providing legal, audit, consultancy, accounting or insurance services to us.

5.2.2 Service Providers

In some instances, we also share Personal Data with our suppliers, who are contractually bound to confidentiality, such as IT hardware, software and outsourcing providers, logistics, mail, courier, printing services and storage providers, marketing and communication providers, facility management companies, market data service providers, transportation and travel management providers and others. When we do so we take steps to ensure they meet our data security standards, so that your Personal Data remains secure.

Where UBS transfers your data to service providers processing data on UBS behalf, we take steps to ensure they meet our data security standards, so that your Personal Data remains secure. Service providers are thereby mandated to comply with a list of technical and organisational security measures, irrespective of their location, including measures relating to: (i) information security management; (ii) information security risk assessment and (iii) information security measures (e.g., physical controls; logical access controls; malware and hacking protection; data encryption measures; backup and recovery management measures).

5.2.3 Public or regulatory authorities

If required from time to time, we disclose Personal Data to public authorities, regulators or governmental bodies, courts or party to proceedings, where we are required to disclose information by applicable law or regulation, under a code of practice or conduct, at their request, or to safeguard our legitimate interests.

5.2.4 Public or regulatory authorities

- We may need to disclose Personal Data to exercise or protect legal rights, including ours and those of our employees or other stakeholders, or in response to requests from individuals or their representatives who seek to protect their legal rights or such rights of others;
- A potential buyer, transferee, merger partner or seller and their advisers in connection with an actual or potential transfer or merger of part or all of UBS's business or assets, or any associated rights or interests, or to acquire a business or enter into a merger with it;
- Any other legitimate recipient required by applicable laws or regulations.

5.3 Data transfers to other countries

The Personal Data transferred within, or outside UBS and the UBS Group as set out in Sections 5.1 and 5.2, is in some cases also processed in other countries. We only transfer your Personal Data abroad to countries which are considered to provide an adequate level of data protection, or in the absence of such legislation that guarantees adequate protection, based on appropriate safeguards (e.g., standard contractual clauses adopted by the European Commission or another statutory exemption) provided by local applicable law. We may also have to transfer data to the competent authority in your country of residence as explained above in section 5.2.3.

A copy of these measures can be obtained by contacting the Group Data Protection Office. If and to the extent required by applicable law, we implement the necessary legal, operational and technical measure and/or enter into an agreement with you before such transfers.

A list of the countries in which UBS and the UBS Group operate can be found here.

6 How long do we store your data?

We will only retain Personal Data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purpose for which it was collected or to comply with legal, regulatory or internal policy requirements. To help us do this, we apply criteria to determine the appropriate periods for retaining your Personal Data depending on its purpose. In general, although there may be limited exceptions, data is kept for the time period defined in the UBS Records Management Policy.

As far as necessary, we will keep your data for the duration of our banking relationship subject to applicable legal and regulatory requirements. In addition, we might process your data after the termination of our banking relationship for compliance or risk management purposes in accordance with applicable laws as well as pursuant to various retention and documentation obligations or if it is in UBS' legitimate interest.

However, if you wish to have your Personal Data removed from our databases, you can make a request as described in Section 7 below, which we will review as set out therein.

7 What are your rights and how can you exercise them?

7.1 Your rights

Your rights regarding your Personal Data that we process can be found in the annex dedicated to the country you are domiciled in.

In certain circumstances UBS may process your personal data through automated decision-making. Where this takes place, you will be informed of such automated decision-making that uses your Personal Data and be given information on criteria and procedures applied. You can request an explanation about automated decision-making carried out and that a natural person review related decisions where such a decision is exclusively based on such processing.

7.2 Exercising your rights

To exercise the above rights, please send an e-mail to sh-diso-wma@ubs.com

If you are not satisfied with how UBS processes your Personal Data, please let us know and we will investigate your concern. Please raise any concerns by contacting the UBS Group Data Protection Office at dpo-us@ubs.com. If you are not satisfied with UBS's response, you have the right to make a complaint to the Data Protection Authority.

8 Changes to Personal Data

We are committed to keeping your Personal Data accurate and up to date. Therefore, if your Personal Data changes, please inform us of the change as soon as possible.

9 Updates to this Notice

This Notice was updated May 2023. We reserve the right to amend it from time to time. Any amendment or update to this Notice we will make available to you here. Please visit the UBS website frequently to understand the current Notice, as the terms of this Notice are closely related to you.

ANNEX I – BRAZIL

Data protection under the Brazil Personal Data Protection Law (Lei Geral de Proteção de Dados)

This appendix applies to any and all forms of use of the Personal Data of clients domiciled in Brazil by us.

As part of our commitment to protect your Personal Data in a transparent manner, we want to inform you about:

- the lawful basis on which your Personal Data is processed; and
- what your rights and our obligations are in relation to such processing.

1) Legal basis for the processing of Personal Data

Depending on the purpose of the processing activity (see Section 3.1), the legal basis for the processing of your Personal Data will be one of the following:

- necessary for taking steps to enter into or executing a contract with you for the services or products you request, or for carrying out our obligations under such a contract;
- required to meet our legal or regulatory responsibilities, including when we conduct the legal and regulatory compliance checks and make the disclosures to authorities, regulators and government bodies;
- necessary for the regular exercise of our rights, including in judicial, administrative or arbitration proceedings;
- necessary for the legitimate interests of UBS, without unduly affecting your interests or fundamental rights and freedoms and to the extent such Personal Data is necessary for the intended purpose. See below for more examples of legitimate interests of UBS); or
- in some cases, and as may be requested from you from time to time, we have obtained prior consent (for instance where required by law) or processed with your explicit consent in the case of sensitive Personal Data.

Examples of the 'legitimate interests' referred to above are:

- manage our relationship with you and to help us to learn more about you as a client, the products and services you receive, and other products and services you may be interested in receiving;
- evaluate whether and how UBS may offer products, services and events that may be of interest to you;
- to prevent fraud or criminal activity, misuses of our products or services as well as the security of our information, IT systems, architecture and networks and security of UBS premises;
- to receive and handle complaints, requests or reports from you or third parties made to designated units within UBS or the UBS Group;
- to take steps to improve our products and services and our use of technology and to conduct market research;
- to cooperate with a request made in any actual or potential proceedings or the inquiries of a public or judicial authority;
- certain situation when we make the disclosures referred to in Section 5 below, providing products and services and assuring a consistently high service standard across the UBS Group, and keeping our clients, employees and other stakeholders satisfied.

in each case provided such interests are not overridden by your privacy interests.

Where the Personal Data we collect from you is needed to meet our legal or regulatory obligations or enter into an agreement with you, if we cannot collect this Personal Data there is a possibility, we may be unable to on-board you as a client or provide products or services to you (in which case we will inform you accordingly).

To the extent that we process any sensitive Personal Data relating to you, we will do so because:

- the processing is necessary to carry out our obligations under local laws requiring such processing, such as Anti Money-Laundering;
- the processing is necessary for our regular exercise of rights, including in judicial, administrative and arbitration proceedings;
- the processing is necessary for the protection of your life or physical security or of another natural person;
- the processing is necessary for the prevention of fraud and your safety, in processes of identification and authentication of registration in electronic systems, provided that your fundamental rights and liberties requiring protection of your personal data do not prevail;
- the processing relates to Personal Data manifestly in the public domain; or
- you have given your specific consent to us to process that information (where legally permissible).

Your rights under the Brazil Personal Data Protection Law

You have a right to access and to obtain information regarding your Personal Data that we process. If you believe that any information we hold about you is incorrect or incomplete, you may also request us to rectify inaccurate Personal Data.

You also have the right to:

- request anonymization, blocking or elimination of unnecessary or excessive Personal Data, or of data that is not processed in compliance with LGPD;
- request the erasure of your Personal Data based upon consent;
- request the disclosure of sub-processors and other parties with whom Personal Data is shared;
- request information about consent choices and the consequences of refusing consent where UBS seeks to rely on your consent as a lawful ground for processing your Personal Data;
- withdraw your consent where we obtained your consent to process Personal Data (without this withdrawal affecting the lawfulness of any processing that took place prior to the withdrawal); and
- request your Personal Data be transferred to you (known as the 'data portability' right).

We will honour such requests, but these rights are not absolute: they do not always apply and exemptions may be engaged. We will usually, in response to a request, ask you to verify your identity and/or provide information that helps us to understand your request better. If we do not comply with your request, we will explain why.

In certain circumstances UBS may process your Personal Data through automated decision-making. Where this takes place, you will be informed of such automated decision-making that uses your Personal Data and be given information on criteria and procedures applied. You can request an explanation about automated decision making carried out and that a natural person reviews the related decision where such a decision is exclusively based on such processing.

If you are not satisfied with UBS' response, you have the right to make a complaint to the data protection authority in Brazil. The contact details of the Brazilian Data Protection Authority can be found at the following website: <https://www.gov.br/anpd/pt-br>

ANNEX II – NEW ZEALAND

Data protection under the New Zealand Privacy Act 2020

This appendix applies to any and all forms of use of the Personal Information of clients domiciled in New Zealand by us.

As part of our commitment to protect your Personal Information in a transparent manner, we want to inform you about your rights in relation to the processing of your Personal Information.

1. Your rights under the New Zealand Privacy Act 2020

You have a right to access and to obtain information regarding your Personal Information that we process. If you believe that any information we hold about you is incorrect or incomplete, you may also request the correction of your Personal Information.

You also have the right to:

- request the erasure of your Personal Information; and
- request for information on the identities or types of third parties with whom your Personal Information is shared.

We will honour such requests, but these rights are not absolute: they do not always apply and exemptions/exceptions may be engaged. We will usually, in response to a request, ask you to verify your identity and/or provide information that helps us to understand your request better. If we do not comply with your request, we will explain why.

If you are not satisfied with UBS's response, you have the right to make a complaint to the Data Protection Authority. The contact details of the Data Protection Authority can be found at the following website: <https://www.privacy.org.nz/>.

ANNEX III – SINGAPORE

Data protection under the Singapore Personal Data Protection Act (PDPA)

This appendix applies to any and all forms of use of the Personal Data of clients domiciled in Singapore us.

As part of our commitment to protect your Personal Data in a transparent manner, we want to inform you about:

- the lawful basis on which your Personal Data is processed; and
- what your rights and our obligations are in relation to such processing.

1. Legal basis for the processing of Personal Data

Depending on the purpose of the processing activity (see Section 3.1 above), the legal basis for the processing of your Personal Data will be one of the following:

- necessary to perform our contractual obligations towards you or to enter into or conclude a contract with you or for carrying out our obligations under such a contract;
 - necessary to comply with our legal or regulatory obligations that are required by law, such as tax reporting requirements;
 - necessary to protect the vital interests of the relevant individual or of another natural person, such as responding to an emergency that threatens the health or safety of the individual or another natural person;
 - necessary for business improvement purposes to the extent permitted under the PDPA, such as to improve new processes for business operations in relation to UBS's services;
 - where we have obtained your prior consent;
 - necessary for one or more of the specific purposes deemed by law to be in the legitimate interests of organisations (PDPA, First Schedule, Part 3, Para 2-10 - "Prescribed Legitimate Interests"). Some of these Prescribed Legitimate Interests which are necessary for UBS include the following:
 - i. for investigation or proceedings (including the establishment, exercise or defence of a legal claim);
 - ii. for UBS to obtain legal services; or;
2. necessary for the general legitimate interests of UBS, without unduly affecting your interests or fundamental rights and freedoms (PDPA, First Schedule, Part 3, Para 1- "General Legitimate Interests"). Examples include processing necessary to:
- i. manage our relationship with you and to help us to learn more about you as a client, the products and services you receive, and other products and services you may be interested in receiving (with the exception of direct marketing, i.e., sending of unsolicited marketing material for which we would obtain your consent);
 - ii. evaluate whether and how UBS may offer products, services and events that may be of interest to you;
 - iii. prevent fraud or criminal activity, misuses of our products or services as well as the security of our information, IT systems, architecture and networks and security of UBS premises;
 - iv. receive and handle complaints, requests or reports from you or third parties made to designated units within UBS or the UBS Group;
 - v. take steps to improve our products and services and our use of technology and to conduct market research;

- vi. cooperate with a request made in any actual or potential proceedings or the inquiries of a public or judicial authority;
- vii. make disclosures for the purposes referred to in Section 5 below, such as providing products and services and assuring a consistently high service standard across the UBS Group, and keeping our clients, employees and other stakeholders satisfied.

2. Your rights under the Singapore Personal Data Protection Act

Your rights

You have a right to access and to obtain information regarding your Personal Data that we process. If you believe that any information we hold about you is incorrect or incomplete, you may also request the correction of your Personal Data. You also have the right to withdraw your consent where UBS obtained your consent to process Personal Data (without this withdrawal affecting the lawfulness of any processing that took place prior to the withdrawal).

UBS will honour such requests, withdrawal or objection as required under applicable data protection rules but these rights are not absolute: they do not always apply and exemptions may be engaged. We will usually, in response to a request, ask you to verify your identity and/or provide information that helps us to understand your request better.

If we do not comply with your request, we will explain why. If you are not satisfied with UBS's response, you have the right to make a complaint to the Data Protection Authority. The contact details of the Data Protection Authority can be found at the following website: <https://www.pdpc.gov.sg>.

ANNEX IV – PEOPLE’S REPUBLIC OF CHINA (CHINA)

Data protection under the China Personal Information Protection Law (PIPL)

This appendix applies to any and all forms of use of the Personal Information of clients domiciled in China by us.

As part of our commitment to protect your Personal Information in a transparent manner, we want to inform you about:

- the lawful basis on which your Personal Information is processed; and
- what your rights and our obligations are in relation to such processing.

1. Legal basis for the processing of Personal Information

Depending on the purpose of the processing activity (see Section 3.1 above), the legal basis for the processing of your Personal Information will be one of the following:

- necessary for taking steps to enter into or executing a contract with you for the services or products you request, or for carrying out our obligations under such a contract, such as when we use your data for some of the purposes in Section 3.1 a) and c) above;
- necessary to meet our legal or regulatory responsibilities, including when we conduct the legal and regulatory compliance checks and make the disclosures to authorities, regulators and government bodies referred to in Section 3.1 e) above;
- processing relates to the personal information made publicly available by you or otherwise lawfully made publicly available within a reasonable scope and in accordance with the Personal Information Protection Law (PIPL);
- where we have obtained your prior consent, or where we have obtained your separate consent (where required by law) such as in the case of transferring Personal Information cross-border, providing Personal Information to third party personal information processors (as defined by China’s Personal Information Protection Law), and processing sensitive Personal Information.

Where the Personal Information we collect from you is needed to meet our legal or regulatory obligations or enter into an agreement with you, if we cannot collect this Personal Information there is a possibility we may be unable to on-board you as a client or provide products or services to you (in which case we will inform you accordingly).

2. Your rights under the China Personal Information Protection Law

Your rights

You have a right to request explanation of processing rules, to consult and to copy your Personal Information that we process. If you believe that any information we hold about you is incorrect or incomplete, you may also request the correction of your Personal Information.

You also have the right to:

- be informed on the processing of your Personal Information
- request the erasure of your Personal Information;
- restrict or prohibit the processing of your personal information
- refuse to receive any commercial advertisements based on your Personal Information;
- request for a copy of your Personal Information and, if technically feasible, to directly transmit a copy of your Personal Information to a third party designated by you;

- request information about consent choices and the consequences of refusing consent where UBS seeks to rely on your consent as a lawful ground for processing your Personal Information; and withdraw your consent where UBS obtained your consent to process Personal Information (without this withdrawal affecting the lawfulness of any processing that took place prior to the withdrawal).

In certain circumstances UBS may process your Personal Information through automated decision-making. Where this takes place, you will be informed of such automated decision-making that uses your Personal Information and be given information on criteria and procedures applied. You can request an explanation about the automated decision making carried out and request that a natural person reviews the related decision where such a decision is exclusively based on such processing.

UBS will honour such requests, withdrawal or objection as required under applicable data protection rules but these rights are not absolute: they do not always apply and exemptions may be engaged. We will usually, in response to a request, ask you to verify your identity and/or provide information that helps us to understand your request better. If we do not comply with your request, we will explain why.

If you are not satisfied with any aspect of the processing of your Personal Information, we would like to discuss it with you to understand how we can rectify the issue. Please raise any concerns by contacting us at the e-mail address indicated in section 7.2 above.

ANNEX V – SAUDI ARABIA

Data protection under the Personal Data Protection Law (PDPL)

This appendix applies to any and all forms of use of the Personal Information of clients domiciled in Saudi Arabia by us.

As part of our commitment to protect your Personal Information in a transparent manner, we want to inform you about:

- the lawful basis on which your Personal Information is processed; and
- what your rights and our obligations are in relation to such processing.

1. Legal basis for the processing of Personal Information

For most of the purposes of our processing activities, the legal basis for the processing of your Personal Data will be your consent.

We equally process your Personal Data where needed to meet our legal or regulatory obligations or in order to perform an agreement we have with you.

If we cannot collect this Personal Data there is a possibility we may be unable to on-board you as a client or provide products or services to you (in which case we will inform you accordingly).

2. Your rights under the PDPL

You have a right to access and to obtain information regarding your Personal Data that we process. If you believe that any information we hold about you is incorrect or incomplete, you may also request the correction of your Personal Data.

You also have the right to:

- request the erasure of your Personal Data; and/or
- withdraw your consent where UBS obtained your consent to process Personal Data (without this withdrawal affecting the lawfulness of any processing that took place prior to the withdrawal), unless statutory or judicial requirements require otherwise.

UBS will honour such requests or withdrawal as required under applicable data protection rules but these rights are not absolute: they do not always apply and exemptions may be engaged. We will usually, in response to a request, ask you to verify your identity and/or provide information that helps us to understand your request better. If we do not comply with your request, we will explain why.

In certain circumstances UBS may process your Personal Data through automated decision-making. Where this takes place, you will be informed of such automated decision-making that uses your Personal Data and be given information on criteria and procedures applied. You can request an explanation about automated decision making carried out and that a natural person reviews the related decision where such a decision is exclusively based on such processing.
