1.3. Quality of execution summary

(a) an explanation of the relative importance the firm gave to the execution factors of price, costs, speed, likelihood of execution or any other consideration including qualitative factors when assessing the quality of execution;

When assessing the quality of execution, UBS takes into consideration the relative importance of the execution factors according to price, cost, speed, likelihood of execution and size and nature and any other relevant factors.

(b) a description of any close links, conflicts of interests, and common ownerships with respect to any execution venues used to execute orders;

Conflicts of interest

Any conflicts of interest relating to execution venues as listed below that are monitored and mitigated as described:

- A conflict may arise if UBS or a UBS employee has ownership of or other economic interest in an execution venue or clearing house.
- A conflict arises when UBS routes orders to an exchange(s) based on volume discounts or fees rather than best execution.

Conflicts (1) are mitigated via the logging of a Key Performance Control, mandatory computer-based training on recognition and management of conflicts of interest, the required adherence to the processes and controls detailed in the internal Conflicts of Interest Policy and the Order Execution and Handling Policy.

Conflict (2) is mitigated via the logging of a Key Performance Control and the required adherence to the processes and controls detailed in the internal Conflicts of Interest Policy, the Order Execution and Handling Policy and the Code of Conduct.

Close links and common ownerships

MiFID II – Level 1 Text – Article 4 (Definitions) defines close links as a situation in which two or more natural or legal persons are linked by participation in the form of ownership, direct or by way of control, of 20% or more of the voting rights or capital of an undertaking.

UBS Switzerland AG UBS Ltd are 100% subsidiaries of UBS AG. UBS Switzerland AG and UBS Ltd are used as broker for routing and the transmission of orders.

(c) a description of any specific arrangements with any execution venues regarding payments made or received, discounts, rebates or non-monetary benefits received;

UBS may not receive any incentives (remuneration, discount or non-monetary benefit) for routing client orders to a particular venue if it results in UBS failing to meet its best possible outcome obligations or results in contravening requirements regarding conflicts of interest or inducements. UBS has guidelines and procedures in place to ensure that arrangements with execution venues are in the best interest of the client.

(d) an explanation of the factors that led to a change in the list of execution venues listed in the firm's execution policy, if such a change occurred;

With the implementation of MiFID II, an overall review of the list of venues was completed in line with the review of the Order Execution Policy and Product General Procedures, with the list of venues to be reviewed on an ongoing basis.

(e) an explanation of how order execution differs according to client categorisation, where the firm treats categories of clients differently and where it may affect the order execution arrangements;

Clients of Wealth Management are generally regarded as retail clients unless they are explicitly classified as professional clients.

Under MiFID II, UBS is required to put in place an order execution and handling policy (MiFID II order execution policy) and to take all sufficient steps to obtain the best possible result (best execution) either when executing client orders or receiving and transmitting orders on behalf of its retail clients, and it extends the same treatment to its professional clients.

(f) an explanation of whether other criteria were given precedence over immediate price and cost when executing retail client orders and how these other criteria were instrumental in delivering the best possible result in terms of the total consideration to the client;

Certain criteria are given precedence to the execution of client orders if they are either express instructions from the client or if those criteria are assessed as delivering the best possible result in terms of the total consideration to the client.

If a client gives an express instruction to execute an order in a particular way, UBS will execute the order in accordance with these express instructions. If the instructions only relate to a part of an order, UBS will apply its principles for best execution to the remaining part of the order which is not covered by the express instruction.

Please note that under certain circumstances, express instructions for executing an order may lead to a situation where UBS is not in a position to take the necessary measures to attain the best possible result in relation to this (or the partial) order.

(g) an explanation of how the investment firm has used any data or tools relating to the quality of execution, including any data published under Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) .../...to be inserted before publication [RTS 27];

An internal venue analysis is undertaken to support the review and assessment of venues in the provision of best execution for our clients.

When assessing the quality of execution of execution venues, UBS uses the following available tools and data to ensure the best possible result for the client:

- Real-time monitoring of the execution venues;
- Broker & service quality controls;
- Client feedback.

UBS reviews its execution arrangements on an ongoing basis.

(h) where applicable, an explanation of how the investment firm has used output of a consolidated tape provider established under Article 65 of Directive 2014/65/EU.

UBS does not make use of the output of a consolidated tape provider.

5.2. Quality of execution summary

(a) an explanation of the relative importance the firm gave to the execution factors of price, costs, speed, likelihood of execution or any other consideration including qualitative factors when assessing the quality of execution;

When assessing the quality of execution UBS takes in to consideration the relative importance of the execution factors according to price, cost, likelihood of execution, and size and nature of the order, speed, and any other relevant factors.

(b) a description of any close links, conflicts of interests, and common ownerships with respect to any execution venues used to execute orders;

Conflicts of interest

Any conflicts of interest relating to execution venues as listed below that are monitored and mitigated as described:

- A conflict may arise if UBS or a UBS employee has ownership of or other economic interest in an execution venue or clearing house.
- A conflict arises when UBS routes orders to an exchange(s) based on volume discounts or fees rather than best execution.

Conflicts (1) are mitigated via the logging of a Key Performance Control, mandatory computer-based training on recognition and management of conflicts of interest, the required adherence to the processes and controls detailed in the internal Conflicts of Interest Policy and the Order Execution and Handling Policy. Conflict (2) is mitigated via the logging of a Key Performance Control and the required adherence to the processes and controls detailed in the internal Conflicts of Interest Policy, the Order Execution and Handling Policy and the Code of Conduct.

Close Links and common ownerships

MiFID II – Level 1 Text – Article 4 (Definitions) defines close links' as a situation in which two or more natural or legal persons are linked by participation in the form of ownership, direct or by way of control, of 20% or more of the voting rights or capital of an undertaking.

(c) a description of any specific arrangements with any execution venues regarding payments made or received, discounts, rebates or non-monetary benefits received;

UBS may not receive any incentives (remuneration, discount or non-monetary benefit) for routing client orders to a particular venue if it results in UBS failing to meet its best possible outcome obligations or results in contravening requirements regarding conflicts of interest or inducements. UBS has guidelines and procedures in place to ensure that arrangements with execution venues are in the best interest of the client.

(d) an explanation of the factors that led to a change in the list of execution venues listed in the firm's execution policy, if such a change occurred;

With the implementation of MiFID II, an overall review of the list of venues was completed in line with the review of the Order Execution Policy and Product General Procedures, with the list of venues to be reviewed on an ongoing basis.

(e) an explanation of how order execution differs according to client categorisation, where the firm treats categories of clients differently and where it may affect the order execution arrangements;

Clients of Wealth Management are generally regarded as retail clients unless they are explicitly classified as professional clients.

Under MiFID II, UBS is required to put in place an order execution and handling policy (MiFID II order execution policy) and to take all sufficient steps to obtain the best possible result (best execution) either when executing client orders or receiving and transmitting orders on behalf of its retail clients, and it extends the same treatment to its professional clients.

(f) an explanation of whether other criteria were given precedence over immediate price and cost when executing retail client orders and how these other criteria were instrumental in delivering the best possible result in terms of the total consideration to the client;

Certain criteria are given precedence to the execution of client orders if they are either express instructions from the client or if those criteria are assessed as delivering the best possible result in terms of the total consideration to the client.

If a client gives an express instruction to execute an order in a particular way, UBS will execute the order in accordance with these express instructions. If the instructions only relate to a part of an order, UBS will apply its principles for best execution to the remaining part of the order which is not covered by the express instruction.

Please note that under certain circumstances, express instructions for executing an order may lead to a situation where UBS is not in a position to take the necessary measures to attain the best possible result in relation to this (or the partial) order.

(g) an explanation of how the investment firm has used any data or tools relating to the quality of execution, including any data published under Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) .../...to be inserted before publication [RTS 27];

An internal venue analysis is undertaken to support the review and assessment of venues in the provision of best execution for our clients.

When assessing the quality of execution of execution venues, UBS uses the following available tools and data to ensure the best possible result for the client:

- Real-time monitoring of the execution venues;
- Broker & service quality controls;
- Client feedback.

UBS reviews its execution arrangements on an ongoing basis.

(h) where applicable, an explanation of how the investment firm has used output of a consolidated tape provider established under Article 65 of Directive 2014/65/EU.

UBS does not make use of the output of a consolidated tape provider.
