Jerry Pascucci

Co-Head of Unified Global Alternatives
Managing Director

Years of investment industry experience: 29

Jerry Pascucci is Co-Head of Unified Global Alternatives (UGA), based in New York. UGA combines the manager selection capabilities from across UBS's Asset Management and Global Wealth Management businesses to serve the needs of its UHNW, institutional and wholesale clients globally.

Jerry oversees the investment process development and management of alternative investment strategies across asset classes, including hedge funds, private equity, credit, real estate and infrastructure investments.

Jerry's investment experience in seeding and allocating to alternative strategies spans decades, having served in roles as President and CIO of several investment advisor entities. These include large portfolios of hedge funds and commodity pools, including the incubation of fundamental and quantitative macro strategies. He was also the architect of multiple alternative investment platforms, curating private markets opportunities across all asset classes including equity, credit, real estate, real assets and infrastructure. In these capacities Jerry has guided hundreds of billions of US dollars of LP capital over his tenure.

Jerry is a member of UBS Asset Management's Management Team and a member of UBS Global Wealth Management's Solutions Management Forum. Jerry also serves as President and Director of UBS's registered investment advisor entities in the US, focusing on portfolio construction and due diligence. Jerry joined UBS in 2010.

Jerry is a keen alternatives industry advocate and serves on the Board of Directors of the Institute for Portfolio Alternatives (IPA) in the US, which is committed to expanding investor access to real assets.

Jerry has spent his entire career in the alternatives space, having previously held senior hedge funds, commodities and CIO leadership roles at Citigroup, Morgan Stanley and Ceres Managed Futures LLC.
