

2022 Flexible Spending Accounts (FSA)

Overview

UBS offers three Flexible Spending Account (FSA) options: Dependent Care FSA, Healthcare FSA (general purpose), and Limited Purpose FSA (for dental, vision and post-deductible healthcare expenses).

The UBS Flexible Spending Accounts are administered by Your Spending Account™ (YSA)—which is linked to the Benefits Express website. For more information about the plans, to view your available balance, submit claims, or check the status of a claim, select the Your Spending Account option on the Benefits Express website. A listing of eligible expenses, including details on which expenses require additional documentation, is also available on the site.

In order to participate in FSAs during the plan year, you must make an active election each year, even if you participated in the prior year. If you do not elect to participate during the Open Enrollment period, you will default to $0 for the 2022 plan year, and you cannot enroll in or make changes to your Healthcare FSA mid-year regardless of a Qualifying Life Event (QLE).

NEW FSA Guidelines Permitted by the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021

On December 27, 2020, the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021 was signed into law, permitting group health and welfare plans to adopt optional relief measures for participants in health care flexible spending accounts and dependent care flexible spending accounts. The following temporary carryover provisions are in effect until December 31, 2022:

- Participants in the UBS healthcare flexible spending account (HCFSA) and dependent care flexible spending account (DCFSA) are permitted to carry over unlimited amounts of all unused HCFSA or DCFSA balances from the plan year ending in 2020 to the plan year ending in 2021.
- Participants in the UBS HCFSA and DCFSA may also carry over unlimited amounts of unused HCFSA or DCFSA balances from the plan year ending in 2021 to the plan year ending 2022.
- Unused balances carried over from a prior plan year will not be counted towards your maximum permissible contribution for the current plan year.

The temporary relief permitted by the Act expires at the end of plan year 2022. Therefore, a participant in the HCFSA with any unused balance as of December 31, 2022 will be subject to the indexed carryover limit of $570. Likewise, any unused balance in the DCFSA as of December 31, 2022 will be forfeited.

All FSA options can be used for eligible expenses incurred only between January 1, 2022 and December 31, 2022. (Note: you must be employed with UBS or be a retiree with an HRA at the time the eligible expense was incurred.) Please see the Important reminders section on page 4 for details.

Dependent Care FSA

The Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account (FSA) lets you reimburse yourself with tax-free dollars for eligible dependent day care expenses. Note: If you are married, you may only use this account if you and your spouse both work or, in some situations, if your spouse goes to school full-time, is looking for a job full-time, or is physically or mentally unable to provide for his or her own care.

If you're eligible and participate in the Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account, UBS will match 100% of your contribution up to $1,000 per year to your FSA to offset dependent day care expenses. To be eligible for the contribution, your 2022 Benefits Base Salary must be under $100,000. This contribution will be made in full in early January, so you have access to these dollars as you start the year.

2022 Minimum Contribution	2022 Maximum Contribution (Employee + UBS contribution)	2022 UBS Matching Contribution
$120	$5,000	Up to $1,000

Please keep in mind:

- The contribution amount you elect during enrollment is in effect until the end of the plan year. You cannot enroll in or make changes to your Healthcare FSA mid-year regardless of a Qualifying Life Event. You can make changes to your Dependent Care FSA if you experience a Qualifying Life Event.
- To be eligible for reimbursement, expenses must be incurred January 1 through December 31 of the plan year (there is no 2 ½ month grace period into the following year). Note: you must be employed with UBS or be a retiree with an HRA at the time the eligible expense was incurred.
You will continue to have until June 30 of the following year to submit claims for the current year; claims must be faxed/postmarked by June 30.
- You should carefully estimate your anticipated eligible expenses because of the use-it-or-lose-it rule: there is no carryover of remaining funds in your Dependent Care FSA after 2022. You can't use them for the next year's eligible expenses.
- When you submit an expense for reimbursement from your Dependent Care FSA, you will be reimbursed up to the amount that is available in your Account. If you incur expenses that exceed your available funds, the claims will be reimbursed as additional funds accumulate in your Account.

Eligible dependent care expenses

Expenses for the following family members are eligible:

- Children under age 13 who qualify as dependents on your federal income tax return.
- Other family members who are physically or mentally unable to care for themselves (such as a parent whom you support) and who qualify as dependents on your tax return.

Limited Purpose Flexible Spending Accounts (FSA), Health Savings Accounts (HSA) and general use Healthcare FSAs: How they work

If you choose to enroll in a UBS medical plan option (Core or Core Plus), you can access the Limited Purpose FSA in addition to a Health Savings Account (HSA).

If you choose to enroll in a non CDHP medical plan option from a source other than UBS—and therefore do not have access to the HSA—you can choose to participate in a general use Healthcare FSA.

¹Limited Purpose FSA is only applicable for employees enrolled in the Core or Core Plus medical plan.

²Employees enrolled in Medicare, TriCare or another government sponsored healthcare benefits plan cannot contribute or have others contribute funds to their HSA. Employees who are over 65 and enrolled in Medicare can, however, continue to use their HSA account to file claims for medical expenses.

³ Except to the extent you elect to continue your benefits through COBRA.

⁴ Participants in the UBS healthcare flexible spending account (HCFSAs) and dependent care flexible spending account (DCFSAs) are permitted to carry over unlimited amounts of all unused HCFSAs or DCFSAs balances from the plan year ending in 2020 to the plan year ending in 2021 and from the plan year ending in 2021 to the plan year ending in 2022. You must incur all claims against your FSA by December 31, 2022. The maximum balance you may carry over into the following year on a Healthcare FSA is $570. The $570 carryover does not apply to the Dependent Care FSA.

Your Spending Account™ (YSA) Debit Card

The YSA debit card is credited with your annual flexible spending contribution amount at the beginning of the calendar year. You can use the card to pay for eligible healthcare expenses and prescription drug charges instead of using cash. Just present your YSA card at a healthcare provider wherever Visa is accepted. The money is drawn directly from your reimbursement account.

If you are a new participant, you will receive a YSA card in December. If you currently have a YSA card, be sure to keep it. This is the card you will use in 2022 for your HSA Account, Limited Purpose Flexible Spending Account or Health Care Reimbursement Account (as applicable).

In some situations, you may have to submit receipts after a purchase. Examples include using the card at a dentist's or optometrist's office. If documents and receipts are required to validate your transaction, you will be notified by US mail or email (if you have an email address listed on the Benefits Express website).

However, please keep in mind that you are never required to use your card. If you prefer, you can always choose to use another form of payment and submit an online or paper claim to YSA.

Important reminders about the Healthcare Flexible Spending Account (FSA), Limited Purpose FSA and Dependent Care FSA
