Economic overview

Prime Minister Theresa May's time at 10 Downing Street came to a close as she announced her intention to resign after talks with the opposition Labour party broke down. This meant no viable path remained for her Brexit deal with the EU to be approved by parliament, and paves the way for a new Conservative party leader to be elected over the summer months. Sterling fell as these events made a no-deal Brexit appear more likely.

While the Bank of England kept interest rates steady at 0.75% over the quarter, policymakers reduced expectations for economic growth for the remainder of 2019 and into 2020 amid Brexit uncertainty.

The pace of interest rate increases seems likely to be increasingly gradual as a result.

GDP growth of 0.5% over the first quarter was a positive surprise, driven by strong manufacturing activity. Inflation remained subdued with core inflation for May dropping to the lowest level since early 2017.

Fund manager comment

The UK Index-Linked Over 5 Year bond index returned 2.02% in sterling terms over the quarter. In yield terms, 10 year real yields fell by 0.20% to -2.48% and 30 year real yields fell by 0.07% to -1.87%. The modified duration of the index is 24.73 years.

The Bank of England's Monetary Policy Committee maintained the policy rate on 0.75%.

The UK Debt Management Office held two real bond auctions during the quarter across a range of maturities.

Activity in the Fund reflected these changes.
