Objective

The US Sustainable Equity Strategy seeks to provide value-added investment results over the S&P 500 Index by investing in attractively valued companies with strong fundamental valuation, as well as a long-term sustainable business model. We believe that combining a traditional valuation discipline with sustainability analysis enhances the possibilities for value-added returns.

Investment philosophy and process

Our investment philosophy and process combine our bottom-up fundamental research with rigorous sustainability analysis. We seek to identify discrepancies between a security’s intrinsic value and its observed market price. For each stock under our analysis, we discount to the present all future cash flows that we believe will accrue to an investor, incorporating our analyst team’s considerations of company management, competitive advantage and each company’s core competencies. Sustainability has emerged as a significant and growing consideration as companies look to achieve long-term viability and profitability. Shareholders own much more than a company’s financial statement – they have invested in its management, buildings, employees, culture, regulatory environment, governance and brand equity. We look at the whole picture when making investment decisions and aim to identify the best investment ideas across sectors from a stock-specific standpoint.

Portfolio construction

US Sustainable is a concentrated portfolio of roughly 20-40 high conviction large-cap stocks within the US equity market. The strategy seeks to access the full range of sustainable investment opportunities.

Key points

- The strategy builds a concentrated portfolio of 20-40 domestic large cap stocks
- Investments are made in stocks that meet both our sustainability and price to intrinsic value criteria
- The investment team applies a research-driven, fundamental, long-term approach developed over the past 30 years.\(^1\)
