Glossary of fund terms

– Ask Price: generally refers to the lowest price at which a seller will sell a specified number of units of a given security at a particular time. The ask price may incorporate a markup, which may vary by transaction and may include commissions and other charges. The ask prices quoted by UBSFSPR represent its judgment of the market price for the Shares. The ask price is for a limited number of shares, but not limited to, recent transactions, supply and demand, the yield of similar types of products, the size and age of UBSFSPR’s inventory, and the size, price, and age of pending customer orders.

– Average Duration: a time measure of a bond’s interest-rate sensitivity, based on the weighted average of the time periods over which a bond’s cash flow accrue to the bondholder. Time periods are weighted by multiplying by the present value of its cash flow divided by the bond’s price. (A bond’s cash flow consist of coupon payments and repayment of capital.) A bond’s duration will almost always be shorter than its maturity, with the exception of zero-coupon bonds, for which maturity and duration are equal.

– Bid Price: generally refers to the highest price a buyer is willing to pay at a particular time for a unit of a given security. UBSFSPR publishes two types of bid prices for the Shares: firm or indicative. A firm bid is provided when UBSFSPR has the risk capacity and/or appetite at the particular time to purchase a specified number of Shares. An investor can sell to UBSFSPR at the firm bid price up to the specified number of Shares at a particular time. On the other hand, an indicative bid is provided for informational purposes only when UBSFSPR does not have the risk capacity and/or appetite at a particular time to purchase Shares. The prices quoted by UBSFSPR represent its judgment of the market price for the Shares. The price quotes take into account market factors, including, but not limited to, recent transactions, supply and demand, the yield of similar types of products, the size and age of UBSFSPR’s inventory, and the size, price, and age of pending customer orders, and may be higher (in which case the price is at a premium) or lower (in which case the price is at a discount) than the NAV of the Fund. The prices quoted by UBSFSPR may also be affected by its willingness to hold additional inventory of the Shares or by its need to sell its inventory of Shares. Depending on market liquidity conditions, orders to buy or sell at the quoted price may not receive immediate execution, and an investor may not be able to sell its Shares at the price quoted by UBSFSPR. Moreover, the proceeds an investor receives on a sale of Shares may be lower than the bid price due to discounts, markdowns, and other charges. Since inception, the Shares have historically traded at prices which reflect a premium to their respective NAV per Share, though on certain limited instances, they have traded at prices which reflect a discount to their respective NAV per Share. However, there is no assurance that the Shares will continue to trade at prices which reflect such a premium.

*Special Considerations
The Fund is a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company registered under the Puerto Rico Investment Companies Act of 1954, as amended. Shares may be purchased or otherwise transferred only to individuals who are residents of Puerto Rico and to entities whose principal office and principal place of business are located in Puerto Rico. The Fund’s yield and net asset value and the market price of the Fund’s shares of Common Stock (the “Shares”) may be affected and will be determined by such factors as relative demand for and supply of the Shares in the market, as well as general market, political, and economic conditions and other factors beyond the control of the Fund. The Shares trade at market price, which may be at a discount or premium to NAV, and no assurance can be given as to their liquidity or trading market. While it is the intention of UBS Financial Services Incorporated of Puerto Rico (“UBSFSPR”) to continue to maintain a secondary market for the Shares, it is not obligated to continue to do so. Moreover, there may be no other source of price information for the Shares or other purchasers of the Shares other than UBSFSPR.

Geographic Concentration Risk. The Fund is exposed to certain risks resulting from the reduced geographic diversification of its portfolio. The Fund's assets are invested primarily in securities of Puerto Rico issuers. Consequently, the Fund in general is more susceptible to economic, political, regulatory or other factors adversely affecting issuers in Puerto Rico than an investment company that is not so concentrated in Puerto Rico issuers. In addition, securities issued by the Government of Puerto Rico or its instrumentalities are affected by the central government's finances. That includes, but is not limited to, general obligations of Puerto Rico and revenue bonds, special tax bonds, or agency bonds. The effect on each specific debt may not be the same; it depends on exactly what part of the government's money or revenue is supposed to pay the interest thereon. Inasmuch as a relatively high percentage of the Fund’s assets may be invested in obligations of a limited number of Puerto Rico issuers, the Fund’s net asset value and its yield may increase or decrease more than that of a more diversified investment company as a result of changes in the market’s assessment of the financial condition and prospects of such Puerto Rico issuers. The Fund may also be more susceptible to any single economic, political, or regulatory occurrence in Puerto Rico than a more widely diversified investment company. Over the past years, the principal Puerto Rico Government bonds as well as the securities issued by several Puerto Rico financial institutions have been downgraded as a result of a number of factors, including without limitation, the downturn experienced by the Puerto Rico economy and the strained financial condition of the Government of Puerto Rico. Currently, the Puerto Rico bond market is experiencing a period of increased volatility, with Puerto Rico bonds trading at lower prices and higher yields compared to benchmarks of the past three (3) years, thereby affecting the Fund’s net asset value.

Portfolio transactions between the Fund and UBSFSPR, Popular Securities (in the case of a co-managed Fund with Banco Popular de Puerto Rico), and other affiliates, are conducted in accordance with procedures adopted by the Fund’s Board of Directors in an effort to address potential conflicts of interest.

Secondary Market Disclosure: Given UBSFSPR is currently the dominant, and may be the sole, source of secondary market liquidity for the Shares an investor may not be able to sell its Shares or may only be able to sell them at a loss, if UBSFSPR were to cease to facilitate such secondary market for the Shares. Accordingly, an investor’s ability to sell its Shares will depend on the interest of other investors buying Shares, or UBSFSPR’s willingness to commit additional capital to holding Shares in inventory. UBSFSPR may, in its sole discretion, commit additional capital to hold Shares in inventory when it deems it appropriate to do so, given market conditions or other considerations, and similarly may reduce the amount of capital committed to fund such inventory of Shares at other times. For example, when UBSFSPR purchases Shares and holds them in its inventory, quoted prices may remain at the previously quoted levels or increase. Conversely, when UBSFSPR sells Shares from its inventory, the quoted prices may decrease. In situations where UBSFSPR is selling Shares from its inventory, it may offer to sell its Shares at prices that are lower than pending sell orders that were placed by investors in the Shares. Decisions by UBSFSPR to increase or decrease inventory are made at its sole discretion and are not generally disclosed.

Repurchase Agreement Tax Disclosure: While there is authority generally supporting the treatment of repurchase and reverse repurchase agreements as collateralized loans for Puerto Rico income tax purposes, that authority does not specifically address the tax treatment of the repurchase agreements that the Fund typically enters into, which contain provisions that grant the buyer the right to sell, transfer, pledge, or hypothecate the securities that are the object of such agreements. Although the Puerto Rico Treasury Department (“PR Treasury”) has never pronounced itself as to whether this type of arrangement should be viewed as a transfer of ownership of the underlying securities, it is possible that the PR Treasury could take that position in the future that Puerto Rico courts would agree with that view. In such event, the tax exempt interest paid on such underlying securities could be deemed not to constitute tax exempt income for the sale of such securities, to the extent that the Fund was such seller, the dividends distributed on its Shares from such income could be treated either as taxable dividends or capital gain dividends. If such dividends were treated as taxable dividends, holders of the Shares who are individuals or Puerto Rico trusts could be subject to a 15% income tax (or 10% income tax for capital dividends distributed before July 1, 2014) on the dividend (or the applicable alternate basic tax), and those which are corporate investors would be subject to a maximum effective income tax rate of 5.85% (or 4.5% for dividends distributed before July 15, 2014), due to the imposition of the Puerto Rico Internal Revenue Code, 15% of the dividend multiplied by a 39% maximum corporate income tax rate for dividends distributed on or after July 1, 2014 and 30% for dividends distributed before July 1, 2014). On the other hand, if such dividends are treated as capital gains dividends, holders of the Shares which are also Puerto Rico trusts would be subject to a 15% income tax (or 10% income tax for capital dividends distributed before July 1, 2014) on the applicable alternate basic tax), and holders of the Shares which are taxed as corporations would be subject to a 20% income tax (15% income tax for capital dividends distributed before July 1, 2014). Recurrent changes in the Puerto Rico tax law: Amendments that change the sales and use tax rules are currently in effect and relevant to the Fund because they provide for the imposition of a new 4% SUT on professional and other services (with limited exceptions) rendered after September 30, 2015 and before April 1, 2016. Amendments providing for the imposition of a new “value added tax” of 10.5% on the purchase of goods and services have been repealed.

Legal Disclaimer
Past performance does not guarantee future results. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. Securities issued by the Fund are subject to Puerto Rican income tax, pre-1948 capital gains or other distributions, or repurchase agreements (the “Shares”). There may be no secondary market for the Shares nor is there any assurance that a secondary market will develop. The net asset value and the yield of the Shares may fluctuate and will be determined by factors generally affecting the price of the Fund’s portfolio securities. There may be no other source of price information for the Shares or other purchasers of the Shares other than UBSFSPR.

Generally, the Fund must invest at least 67% of the Fund’s total assets and leverage limitation (or 10% income for dividends distributed before July 15, 2014) on the dividend (or the applicable alternate basic tax), and those which are corporate investors would be subject to a maximum effective income tax rate of 5.85% (or 4.5% for dividends distributed before July 15, 2014), due to the imposition of the Puerto Rico Internal Revenue Code, 15% of the dividend multiplied by a 39% maximum corporate income tax rate for dividends distributed on or after July 1, 2014 and 30% for dividends distributed before July 1, 2014). On the other hand, if such dividends are treated as capital gains dividends, holders of the Shares which are individuals or Puerto Rico trusts would be subject to a 15% income tax (or 10% income tax for capital dividends distributed before July 1, 2014) on the applicable alternate basic tax), and holders of the Shares which are taxed as corporations would be subject to a 20% income tax (15% income tax for capital dividends distributed before July 1, 2014). Recurrent changes in the Puerto Rico tax law: Amendments that change the sales and use tax rules are currently in effect and relevant to the Fund because they provide for the imposition of a new 4% SUT on professional and other services (with limited exceptions) rendered after September 30, 2015 and before April 1, 2016. Amendments providing for the imposition of a new “value added tax” of 10.5% on the purchase of goods and services have been repealed.

Footnotes:
1 Generally, the Fund must invest at least 67% of the total market value of the Fund’s portfolio securities (including, but not limited to, portfolio securities purchased with the proceeds of leverage, as well as cash, including cash equivalents, but excluding non-cash, non-portfolio securities items (including, but not limited to, prepaid items, receivables, and swap marked-to-market), in Puerto Rico securities. Additionally, the Fund may issue preferred stock, debt securities, or any other form of leverage unless the value of its total assets less all its liabilities and indebtedness, other than the preferred stock, debt securities, or other forms of leverage being issued or already outstanding, is at least equal to 200% of the total aggregate liquidation preference/principal amount of all its outstanding preferred stock (not including any accumulated dividend or other distributions), debt securities and other forms of leverage. Currently, the Puerto Rico bond market is experiencing a period of increased volatility, with Puerto Rico bonds trading at historically lower prices and lower yields. In view of these volatile market conditions, the Puerto Rico Office of the Commissioner of Financial Institutions (the “PROCFI”) has granted to the Fund a temporary regulatory waiver from the Fund’s investment requirement in Puerto Rico securities of at least 67% of the Fund’s total assets and leverage limitation of 50% of its total assets and 200% asset coverage requirement described above, through June 30, 2020. Based on the representations and opinion of the Fund’s investment adviser and consistent with the Fund’s investment objective, the PROCFI has also granted no-objection relief with respect to the Fund’s investment-grade credit rating requirement for Puerto Rico securities, which permits the Fund to continue to invest in Puerto Rico municipal securities that do not have an investment grade credit rating, under certain conditions, at the discretion of the Fund’s investment adviser. These temporary waivers and no-objection relief may be renewed by the PROCFI for additional periods of time, should market conditions warrant, and upon written request by the Fund. It is the Fund’s intention to
On August 2015, the Board of Directors approved an extension of the Fund’s existing share repurchase program for the acquisition of up to 60% of the Fund’s issued Shares. The Repurchase Program is intended to enhance shareholder value by providing additional liquidity to Fund shareholders. For the quarter ended June 30, 2019, the Fund has not repurchased Shares in the open market. Since the program’s inception, the Fund has repurchased 17,523,673 Shares of common stock in the open market with an NAV of $95,331,082, at a cost of $88,629,184, and which represent 46.13% of the aggregate number of Shares issued by the Fund (net of Shares acquired for dividend reinvestment purposes and which remain outstanding). As of June 30, 2019, Return figures were not calculated in accordance with Regulation 5766 of March 11, 1998, as amended, which requires that investment returns for an individual retirement account ("IRA") be calculated in the manner provided therein.

To the extent that an individual invests in the Fund through an IRA, his or her investment return figures will be less than those reported herein, when computed in accordance with Regulation 5766 and inasmuch as actual sales charges applicable to such IRA investments are taken into consideration. Average Annual Total Return figures reflect the percentage change in the market value, determined by calculating the average between the bid and ask prices, plus any income and capital gain dividends, and return of capital distributions, all such dividends and distributions reinvested as of the corresponding record date thereof, at the month-end NAV as of that date. In the case of “NAV Total Return,” the Fund’s NAV per Share is used, rather than the average between the bid and ask prices, to determine such total return, as applicable. Rolling Period Annual Returns measure the monthly movement in the average of the Annualized Average Market Return figures over a one-year, three-year, five-year, and ten-year period (as applicable), as it moves over a consecutive time series that begins on the Fund’s inception date. Additionally, in the case of the Average Annual Total Return and Rolling Period Annual Return figures, commissions or sales charges payable in connection with a purchase or sale of Shares may vary with each brokerage institution. Total return figures are not representative of the performance of any individual investment, and taxes on capital gain distributions or income dividends, if any, have not been deducted. All calculations were performed by Thomson Reuters, based on certain financial data provided by this Fund and are annualized with the exception of year-to-date figures.

A $10,000 investment is hypothetical and is shown for illustrative purposes only.

“IPD Dividend Yield” is calculated by multiplying the current month’s distribution by twelve (12) and dividing the result by the initial public offering price. “Current Dividend Yield” is calculated by multiplying the current month’s distribution by twelve (12) and dividing the result by the month-end bid price.

Percentages may not total 100% due to rounding.

As outlined in the Fund’s Notice to Shareholders dated March 28, 2019, the bonds issued by the Puerto Rico Sales Tax Financing Corporation (“COFINA”) were restructured pursuant to a Plan of Adjustment approved on February 12, 2019, which resulted, in certain instances, in the receipt of a non-recurring cash payment to the Fund. A special dividend was declared by the Fund’s Board of Directors from the proceeds of this cash payment and is reflected in the dividend yield.
